"Birthday of the Students.... Insistence on Tree Care"

Activity (वाढदिवस विद्यार्थ्यांचा...आग्रह वृक्षसंगोपनाचा)

Due to the imbalance in the current environmental situation, we are facing numerous natural problems and emergencies. This has emphasized the need for environmental conservation. In line with this, the Ashokrao Mane Group of Institutions, through the joint efforts of the Social Club and Electronics and Telecommunication Students' Association (ETSA) has initiated a unique program called "Birthday of the Students.... Insistence on Tree Care" Activity ("वाढदिवस विद्यार्थ्यांचा...आग्रह वृक्षसंगोपनाचा") to instill the importance of environmental conservation and tree planting in the minds of students.

Under this initiative, every student in the Electronics and Telecommunication Department will receive a tree sapling as a birthday gift along with good wishes. It will be the responsibility of the students to plant and take care of the sapling in their home surroundings, promoting conservation and preservation.

This program will run throughout the year, from 1st May 2023, to 1st May 2024, with the active participation of students in the department. The information was provided by Prof. Digvijay Pawar, the head of the Social Club at the institute.

It's great to hear that your college is actively engaged in raising awareness about energy literacy and taking steps to address the environmental challenges associated with energy consumption. Climate change is indeed a pressing global issue, and your efforts to educate and involve students in energy-saving initiatives are commendable.

ASHOKRAO MANE GROUP OF INSTITUTIONS, VATHAR

FACULTY OF ENGINEERING

Department of Electrical Engineering

The three rules you mentioned for addressing energy and climate change issues are important and practical:

Avoid by 1/3rd: Finding ways to avoid unnecessary energy use is a crucial step. This can include energy-efficient design, better insulation, and turning off lights and appliances when not in use. Simple changes in behavior can make a significant difference.

Minimize by 1/3rd: Reducing energy consumption is another key strategy. This involves using energy-efficient technologies and practices, such as using LED lighting, upgrading appliances, and optimizing heating and cooling systems.

Generate by 1/3rd: Local generation of energy, especially from renewable sources like solar panels or wind turbines, can help reduce the reliance on carbon-intensive energy sources. It also promotes sustainability and resilience in the face of energy disruptions.

Educating 500 students in your campus about energy-saving and energy literacy is a commendable achievement. It's essential to spread awareness about the importance of individual and collective actions in addressing climate change. By empowering students with knowledge and practical solutions, you contribute to a more sustainable and environmentally conscious future. Keep up the good work, and may your efforts inspire others to take similar initiatives in their communities!
